The executive board of the UFT was scheduled to meet at 10 a.m. It was reported that UFT President Albert Shanker would like to get a general membership vote on the proposal tonight so schools could open in the morning.

The Board of Education also was expected to act on the agreement later today.

A board spokesman said that most of the major points in the three-way controversy had been agreed upon, but a few details remained to be considered.

The UFT had voted overwhelmingly Sunday to strike the schools if the decentralization issues posed in the Ocean Hill-Brownsville district were not resolved.

Supt. of Schools Bernard E. Donovan said today that "dis-strict superintendents have been given authority to close schools where the absence of staff endangers the interest of the children."

Shortly before 8:30 a.m., Donovan said, "Public schools are open today."

"We have been working all night to avert the strike and it is hoped that agreement will be reached today. Teachers are urged to report to their regular positions."

Even as meetings between the various parties in the dispute continued, there were conflicting reports throughout Sunday on whether the schools would open.

Mayor John V. Lindsay said they would not.

Police reported pickets today around one school in the Bronx.

Several schools were picketed during the morning and at others, students milled around in playgrounds waiting to hear whether classes would be held.

At a school on the Lower East Side, striking teachers distributed literature to parents explaining their case. They told parents to take their children home and await word of a settlement.

Black Panther Club Hears Soldier Leader Is Convicted

By JACK SCHREIBMAN
Associated Press Writer
OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) —

Black Panther leader Huey Newton, 26, was convicted Sunday night of voluntary manslaughter in the killing of a white policeman. They took four days to reach a verdict.

Newton's attorney, Charles R. Garry, moved immediately for an arrest of judgment and a new trial, and said he would appeal the conviction.

The verdict "didn't make any sense," Garry told newsmen. The defense contended that the dead policeman hated Negroes and harassed them.

Newton could be imprisoned from two to 15 years. A hearing was set for Thursday on Garry's motions.

The jury of seven women and five men found Newton guilty of shooting patrolman John Frey last Oct. 28 in a West Oakland Negro district.

The prosecution said the killing occurred after Frey stopped a car containing Newton and another Negro for questioning about traffic tickets. Frey was shot five times and bled to death. Another officer, Herbert Heanes, was critically wounded, and Newton was shot once.

The verdict ended a eight-week trial conducted in the atmosphere of an armed camp. Dozens of policemen were in the courthouse during the trial and spectators were searched daily before entering the courtroom.

Negro militants had predicted trouble if the verdict went against Newton but the city was quiet today.

Newton stared expressionless when the verdict was read. As the jury was dismissed, an unidentified person among the spectators shouted, "Black Power!"

The jury found Newton innocent of a second count, assault with a deadly weapon.

Six Persons Killed on Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Six persons were killed, including three near Hamburg, on Arkansas highways during the weekend. The Associated Press death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Authorities said L. G. Tascal, 45, and Martha Acey, about 31, both of Hamburg and Henry A. Helms, 59, of El Dorado were killed Sunday night when a vehicle driven by Tascal collided with one driven by Maurice Hall, 53, of El Dorado on U.S. 82 just south of Hamburg.

Authorities said Tascal's vehicle skidded sideways along the shoulder of the road for more than 500 feet, then careened into the path of the Hall vehicle.

Hall, Mrs. Hall and another passenger in the vehicle, Bill Robertson, 15, also of El Dorado, were hospitalized.

Robert McMinn, 32, of Blytheville was killed Sunday when he was struck by a motorcycle driven by Carl Mosley, 26, also of Blytheville, officers said.

The accident occurred on a county road about four miles west of Blytheville. McMinn apparently walked into the path of the motorcycle, authorities said.

Donald Woodard, 31, of Delaplane (Greene County) was killed Sunday about five miles east of Pocahontas when his vehicle left Arkansas 90 and overturned.

Harvard L. Harp, 62, of Springdale was killed Friday night when his car plunged 104 feet down an embankment on Arkansas 68 near the Madison-Carroll County line.

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — American colleges are drawing "our finest generation of students," President James A. McCain of Kansas State University said Sunday. McCain greeted about 5,000 new students and their parents at the opening convocation in Memorial Stadium. Students have had a major part in more than a score of new developments at Kansas State during the last two years, he said.

Author, Artist Are Married
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Author Leon Uris, 44, and artist Marjorie Edwards, 26, were married Sunday at Temple Israel and left for a honeymoon in England.

The bride wore a full-length white gown of Israeli wood chills with yemenite embroidery. And the bridegroom, who wrote "Exodus," a novel about modern Israel, smashed a glass under his foot for good luck—a Jewish tradition.

It was Uris' second marriage. Miss Edwards' first. A jewelry designer from Philadelphia, Miss Edwards met Uris when she moved to Aspen, Colo., where he lives and where they will make their home.

Crank Adds Topics for Debate
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Marion H. Crank of Foreman, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, has deemed appropriate the issues suggested by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, but has added more topics for the proposed televised debate between the two candidates for governor.

Eight issues Crank added were bond issues pledging the full faith and credit of the state, expansion of research facilities, financial assistance for cities and counties; labor legislation, airport programs, mixed drink legislation, legislative cooperation with the governor's program and proposed improvements in agricultural programs.

Crank also suggested that some of the programs originate in El Dorado, Fort Smith and Jonesboro.

He proposed that the issues be regrouped and that each candidate be given 10 minutes to make an opening statement, 30 minutes for questions and five minutes each for summation.

The first two programs would cover all the issues and originate from Little Rock with the stations submitting a list of persons to serve on a panel to question them.

In the remaining four programs the public would be allowed to question the candidates with a moderator agreed to by both parties asking the questions as they are phoned in, Crank said.

"We propose that the programs be commenced the week of Sept. 30, one week each, and conclude with the final program on Monday, Nov. 4, all programs to be live," Crank said in a letter to Rockefeller.

Eating Food

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Many people get fat, says a psychologist, because eating food is the most socially accepted pleasure.

A prostitute, an alcoholic or a dope addict is an outcast in society, he said, "but the consequences of overeating are not frowned on by religion and society even though it can kill you."

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — An estimated 3,000 marijuana plants, valued by police at between $180,000 and $225,000 if processed, were destroyed along the Rio Grande within the city limits.

Sgt. Bob Stover of the narcotics squad, who would not disclose where or when the plants were found, said, "one stretch of the growth ran for about a mile and the second ran in patches for about three miles."

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — "Around the World in 80 Days," ABC's Sunday night special, was a warm and entertaining memoir of a man in a hurry who made and lost two fortunes by the time he was 21 and who, as he put it, "grew up and married Elizabeth Taylor."

Miss Taylor, who was 24 when Todd, then 44, became her third husband, was woven into the program, reminiscing on the years of their marriage with affection, warmth and even amusement. She recalled his whirlwind courtship and her engagement ring: "Mike said it was 2 1/2 carats — 30 carats would have been vulgar."

The program was as full of stars as Todd's most famous movie, "Around the World in 80 Days," which received almost reverent treatment. Orson Wells, narrating, called Todd "the most colorful of the great showman." Jack E. Leonard, who went to grammar school with Todd, told how Mike ran their schoolyard crap game and how he acted as lookout for the cops.

Todd quit school at 17, made and lost a couple of million dollars building Hollywood sound studios, and recouped with an act at the Chicago World's Fair. He parlayed a Broadway musical into a hit attraction at the New York World's Fair in 1939 and then struck it rich—for a while—on Broadway.

Gypsy Rose Lee, one of his stars, called him the most exciting man she ever met. Ethel Merman, recalling Todd's complete supervision of "Something for the Boys," said, "He told Cole Porter how to write the songs; he even told me how to sing them."

They were just a few who contributed to the carefully edited picture drawn partly by his son, the show's producer, Michael Todd Jr.

Todd died in a private plane crash almost 10 years ago. Miss Taylor, in a serious note, said that his legacy to her was "a gift of love, not only how to give but how to receive, with love."

The hour was like a highly re-touched photograph—not the complete portrait of a man but pleasant to look at.

The annual two-hour "Miss America Pageant" on NBC Saturday night came off as usual as far as TV viewers were concerned. The best effort was to turn the contest into a sort of variety show. The girls, of course, were pretty and the level of professionalism in the performances by the finalists was higher than in other years.

There were excellent production values—the sets and costumes were effective. But things bogged down when they dragged in that "Traveling the Road to Someday" theme.

CBS's "Petticoat Junction" has cast June Lockhart in a new role as a woman doctor in the series. It is obviously a replacement of a maternal figure in the programs now that Bea Benaderet has taken a sabbatical to regain her health. Miss Lockhart has started work on her first episode and will not appear until later in the season.

She was the mother in "Lost in Space" for the past couple of seasons and before that was the mother in the family that owned "Lassie."

HELEN HELP US!

HOME GROWN EXCHANGE STUDENTS

Dear Helen: The exchange student program has been a tremendous success. Almost every school now has exchange students from foreign lands, living in local homes.

Why not make it national as well as international? We have different races and religions in the United States, and how better can we learn that the differences aren't that important, than by bringing these young people into our homes, letting our children visit theirs?

If people could organize the "Home Grown Exchange Program" with as much enthusiasm and "sense of welcome" as is given to Foreign Exchange, it would be another step toward the defeat of racism and bigotry in the United States. Right? — MRS. T.C.

Dear Mrs. C.: Right! This "home grown exchange program" is already underway in Oregon, where "Project Brotherhood" was formulated shortly after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King. It is not limited to exchanging visits between black and white teenagers. People of any age, race, or religion may participate. The visitors are matched in terms of interests, family occupations, ages, etc., so that similarities, rather than differences are emphasized. Color (or lack of it) becomes unimportant when families discover how alike they are in their attitudes and goals.

Another heartening thing: More and more college students are requesting dormitory room mates of different races or religions. We're approaching the time — it's still a long way off — when color won't matter. And we're getting there, of course, by making it matter a great deal. Though the fight against discrimination is slow and painful, it's come an amazing distance in the last few years. If you don't think so, re-read "Kingsblood Royal."

Dear Helen: My sister-in-law figures tears will get her anything she wants, and they have, where her husband is concerned. He's my brother, and I hate to see him led by the nose. They've been married three months. She isn't babyish, but she knows crying makes him give in.

Should I make some pointed remarks about "Where there's a 'wile' there's a way"? — ON TO HER

Illinois Girl Is the New Miss America

NEW YORK (AP)—The newly crowned Miss America, Judith Anne Ford, arrived Sunday to begin a 10-day visit as part of her year's reign.

The 18-year-old blonde from Belvidere, Ill., will have a busy schedule of wardrobe fittings, interviews and conferences as she gets ready for the 200,000 miles of travel that go with her title.

Miss Ford can expect to earn about $85,000 in personal appearance fees during the year.

She is scheduled to hold a news conference Tuesday.

Meanwhile, a spokesman said, she will be in seclusion at Barclay Hotel, resting from her four nights of competition in Atlantic City, N.J.

After an acrobatic performance on a trampoline during the talent contest Saturday night, the 5-foot-7, 125-pound beauty fielded reporters' questions at a news conference Sunday morning following only two hours' sleep.

"Do blondes really have more fun?" she was asked.

"I've never been a brunette to compare it with," answered Miss America, who is 36-24-36.

Judi was a straight-A student in her freshman year at the University of Southern Louisiana. She was the first coed in the school's 61-year history to win a varsity athletic letter.

As the only woman member of the school's trampoline team, she finished second in the junior national AAU championships this year.

Judi says she plans to finish her education at the University of Illinois and to become a physical education teacher.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ford, live in Belvidere, where her father is a director of labor relations for the Sunstrand Corp. Her brother Don is a medical student.

Minnesota Rookie Rough on Tigers

Associated Press Sports
If Craig Nettles keeps hitting home runs, people are going to learn the proper spelling of his first name in a hurry.

It's Craig, not Craig and not Greg. And the Minnesota rookie spelled nothing but trouble for Detroit's pennant express over the weekend.

Nettles slammed a three-run homer—his fourth in three days against the Tigers—accounting for all of Minnesota's runs in the Twins' 3-1 victory over the American League leaders Sunday.

The loss combined with Baltimore's 3-2 victory over Chicago, cut the Tigers' lead to seven games over the Orioles. Detroit's magic number for clinching the flag remained at 12.

In other AL action Sunday, New York rapped Washington 7-2, California edged Boston 3-2 and Oakland walloped Cleveland 10-2.

In the National League, St. Louis reduced its magic number for clinching the pennant to seven by shipping San Francisco 3-2 in 11 innings. Pittsburgh blanked New York 3-0, Atlanta topped Houston 4-1, Chicago bombed Philadelphia 10-3 and Los Angeles edged Cincinnati 3-2.

Nettles was called up from Denver of the Pacific Coast League on Sept. 1 when the roster limit was increased to 40 men. He hit his first major league homer Friday night against Tiger ace Denny McLain, walloped two for both Twins runs in a 2-1 victory Saturday night and then unloaded a No. 4 against Earl Wilson Sunday.

"When I hit homers," explained Nettles, "I hit them in bunches."

Nettles' sixth inning homer followed singles by Cesar Tovar and Frank Kostro and gave Dean Chance the victory over Wilson. Chance, touched for a fifth inning homer by Gates Brown, allowed six hits and struck out seven, squaring his record at 14-14. Wilson is 12-12.

Baltimore picked up ground when Dave McNally stopped Chicago on four hits for his 20th victory and 12th straight since the All Star break.

The Orioles scored all their runs with two out in the first inning when Brooks Robinson tripled, Frank Robinson and Elrod Hendricks followed with doubles and Dave Johnson singled.

That was enough for McNally, 20-8, who has not lost since July 5. He gave up a run in the fifth and another in the eighth but went the route to become the Orioles' second 20-game winner since the club returned to the major leagues in 1954. The other was Steve Barber in 1963.

The Yankees, who had scored 26 runs on 27 hits sweeping a Saturday doubleheader from Washington, kept the offense rolling with 11 more hits and beat the Senators again for Stan Bahnsen's 15th victory.

Bahnsen allowed four hits—two of them homers by Gene Martin and Mike Epstein—and coasted after the Yankees scored three runs with two out in the third inning on a walk, Joe Pepitone's triple, and consecutive doubles by Tom Tresh and Bill Robinson.

The victory moved the Yankees three games over .500—the first time since 1964 that they've had the good record so late in the season. New York is tied for fifth place with Oakland, one game back of fourth place Cleveland.

The Athletics clubbed the Indians for the third time in a row with Danny Cater, Bert Campaneris and Dave Duncan leading an 18-hit attack.

Cater had four hits, raising his batting average to .289. Duncan and Campaneris had three each with Campaneris scoring twice on two doubles and a triple.

California scored all its runs in the first inning and then hung on to beat Boston.

Rookies Jarvis Tatum and Jim Spencer each singled in the first inning uprising with Spencer's single driving in what turned out to be the Angels' winning run.

Clyde Wright pitched 6 2-3 innings of relief to earn his ninth victory after Angel starter Jim McGlothlin was forced to leave the game when he was struck on the left wrist by Carl Yastrzemski's line drive.

Tigers Win First Game by 32-13

By LINDA B. WILLIAMS
Yerger SportsWriter
The Tigers started the first quarter off doing nothing at all. Louisville had scored twice before the second quarter. The Tigers just wasn't playing football. I guess they figured that, they were in a practice game back at Yerger.

I don't know what happen, but it did. Horace Johnson, E, with the Tigers third down, went all the way. Putting the Tigers on the scoreboard for the first time in the game. PAT was good. Score stands 7-13 favoring Louisville.

With 58 seconds left on the clock, before half-time, Louisville had possession of the ball. The Tigers being able to hold Louisville, got another chance at the ball before half-time. With 8 seconds showing on the clock, Thomas Garland goes for the second Tiger TD. PAT was not good. Score for half-time 13-13.

The red flag wasn't seen very often during the first half.

During half-time, the Tigers ironed out their mistakes. I can see Coach Tate saying "boys the first quarter was terrible, the second quarter OK. Now listen you've got to go back out there hitting hard, do quick running, and quick thinking, OK."

Third quarter looks very good for the Tigers. The first time the Tigers had the ball in the third quarter, on the second play Jerry Johnson, TE, ran the TD. Putting the Tigers in the lead for the first time in the game. PAT good — makes score 20-13 favoring Hope.

With 1:13 remaining in third quarter, Louisville had the Tigers puzzled. Louisville tried for the TD. Ruled no good. Red flags were everywhere, and this was the third down for Louisville. Tigers having possession of the ball. With 3-5 Jerry Johnson, makes his second TD for the Tigers. Score 26-13. PAT no good.

Fourth quarter, Louisville found no way to get through the Tigers. Louisville was penalized 3 times during the 4th quarter, all good for the Tigers.

With 1:18 seconds left on the clock, guess what happens, Jerry Johnson comes up with another TD for the Tigers. Score 32-13 favoring Hope.

This was the last TD for the game. The score was 32-13 favoring Hope.

We had a good crowd to go along with the Tigers, and boosted them on to victory.

New Zealand Driver Not Washed Up

MONZA, Italy (AP) — Denis Hulme, the balding racer from New Zealand who everyone thought was washed up, has served notice that he wants to win the world drivers championship for the second time running.

The 32-year-old racer, without a single victory in Grand Prix this season, vaulted to fourth place in the world Formula One auto driving standings, after a victory Sunday in the Grand Prix of Italy.

Many drivers and spectators at the Monza race claimed it looked like a victory by default. After all, Graham Hill—who just cut a huge cake with 100 candles for as many grand prix as he has participated in—lost a wheel and withdrew from the race. Hill is leading the championship with 30 points.

Before that, Britain's John Surtees hit a guard rail with his Japanese Honda and skidded to a halt. In his wheel he forced New Zealand's Chris Amon to drive off the track with his gleaming Lotus Ford. Amon dropped to seventh in the standings with 10 points.

Also missing were Mario Andretti and Bobby Unser, who were not allowed to drive after flying from Indianapolis, Ind., where they competed in the Hoosier Hundred on Saturday.

Many Good Signs Crop Up in Loss

By RALPH ROUTON
Star SportsWriter

Much to the dismay of the local followers, the Hope Bobcats were beaten 7-0 by the Ashdown Panthers in the 1968 home opener last Friday night at Hammons Stadium.

Although it was a heart-breaking loss and was really a bitter pill, there were many good performances. In the opinion of this writer, who should be joined by many others who saw the game itself, the Bobcats played well enough to win.

Probably the most evident surprise was the hard tackling of the tough Bobcat defensive unit. Time after time five and six players would demonstrate beautifully the philosophy of gang tackling, a policy which, in effect, wears down the opposing backs a mite quicker.

One interesting note is a look at Ashdown's offensive statistics. In the first half the Panthers picked up 109 yards in total offense, including 74 passing and 35 on the ground. At the game's end the visitors only had 80 yards in the air and 38 yards rushing, amounting to exactly nine yards total offense for Ashdown in the second half.

This is quite stimulating, meaning that the Hope team effort actually grew stronger after the first two periods. Over the past several years Hope had gained a reputation around 4-A as being a first half ballclub that faded in the late going. With such a good performance in only the first game, when the team is not usually ready for the long playing time, our Bobcats might easily develop into an exciting team to watch.

Still more evidence to the facts stated above are the Hope offensive records. With only 79 yards gained at half-time, the Cats came back and rolled up 123 yards in the final half, all on the ground. This is also to point out that if the locals can work up an adequate passing attack, which we may already have, then Hope should be a wide-open offensive team when conference play rolls around in three weeks.

Junior David Still did a fine job in his punting role, getting off two boots for a fine 40.5 average before, having one blocked in the third quarter. Overall, the coverage on kicks was good, with no runbacks on either of the punts.

The thing that really killed the Bobcats' chances was a strong case of fumbleitis, which took its toll in eight cases, five of which meant an unnecessary turnover at a bad time. Recounting the situations around which Hope lost the pigskin on fumbles, it is easy to tell that the bobbles alone were a demoralizer.

The first occurrence was midway through the second period, when the Cats had gotten their first real offensive into Ashdown territory. Runs of 12, 11, 16, and 12 yards had put Hope into a 2nd and 3 situation at the Ashdown 14. Things were looking great, then came a fumble.

With the ball on the Panther 41-yard line and 0:54 left in the half, the Cats prepared to try to put one across. Fumble number two was lost on first down, and although Ashdown fumbled back on the next down, Larry Massanelli suffered his only interception of the evening on the following play.

Lost fumble number three came with three minutes to go in the third quarter, and this one led to the only score of the contest. A bobble at the Bobcat 27 gave it to Ashdown, who once more was throttled on offense. The fourth-down roughing the passer call was next, though, and allowed the Panthers to keep the ball when Hope would have taken over. That penalty crushed the defense momentarily, and Ashdown scored in three plays from nine yards out.

On the ensuing kickoff a good return put the Cats in business at the Ashdown 49. With good play-calling by QB Massanelli, Hope moved to a first down, 15 yards from paydirt. Here, as before, our momentum was completely arrested by still another fumble lost.

The only good break for the Bobcats gave them their last chance near the end. Ashdown had a punting down with 4th and 5 at their own 42 and 1:55 left. Offsetting penalties nullified a roughing the kicker call against the Bobcats, and the Panthers had to punt once again.

This time the snap went over punter Wylie Coley's head, and Hope recovered at the Ashdown 21. A couple of furious charges made it 3rd and three at the three, and 34 seconds to play. Fate struck for the final time here, taking the ball away from the Bobcats by fumble for the fifth and last time.

So that was the real story of

Mays' Error Opens Gate for Cards

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Herman Franks' desperate three-day siege of St. Louis had the Cardinals squeezed into an unfamiliar blind... until they got the drop on Willie Mays and started pinching back.

Franks' San Francisco Giants, bidding for a four-game sweep over the National League front-runners, led 2-1 in the ninth inning of Sunday's series finale when Mays dropped pinch hitter Roger Maris' long drive for a two-base error.

The Cardinals went on to tie the game on a sacrifice fly by pinch hitter Johnny Edwards and won it 3-2 in the 11th on a run-scoring pinch single by Phil Gagliano.

The victory sent St. Louis 11½ games ahead of the second place Giants and lowered the Cards' magic number for clinching their second successive pennant to seven. Any combination of Cardinal victories and Giant losses adding up to seven will put the leaders over the top.

In Sunday's other NL action the Chicago Cubs bombed Philadelphia 10-3, Los Angeles shaded Cincinnati 3-2, Atlanta downed Houston 4-1 and Pittsburgh beat the New York Mets 3-0.

Minnesota defeated Detroit's American League leaders 3-1, second place Baltimore nipped the Chicago White Sox 3-2, California edged Boston 3-2, Oakland drubbed Cleveland 10-2 and the New York Yankees whipped Washington 7-2.

Mays, whose three previous errors in the St. Louis series hadn't hurt the Giants, pinch hit in the fifth inning Sunday and tied the game 1-1 with a run-scoring single.

Dick Dietz put San Francisco ahead 2-1 with a run-producing single in the top of the ninth, but the Cards sent the game into overtime after Mays failed to center field Maris' leadoff shot to center. Bob Gibson, running for Maris, took third on another fly to Mays and scored on Edwards' fly to left.

Dal Maxvill opened the Cards' 11th with a single, raced to third on Lou Brock's single and tallied the winning run on Gagliano's pinch-hit single.

Orlando Cepeda homered for the Cards in the fourth but Dietz' triple and Mays' pinch single knotted it before a thunderstorm held up play for one hour, 12 minutes in the fifth. Billy Williams laced four hits, including his 25th and 26th homers, in the Cubs' romp over Philadelphia. Williams' three-run homer keyed a five-run burst in the third inning and the Cubs added three more in the fifth, with Williams and Ernie Banks hitting successive homers.

Left-hander Ken Holtzman, who scattered eight hits on the way to his 10th victory, drove in two Chicago runs with a pair of singles.

Jim Lefebvre carried the Dodgers past Cincinnati by rapping two singles, a run-scoring double and a bases-empty homer in four trips to the plate.

Winning pitcher Joe Mueller allowed just two bunt singles until the ninth, when Lee May singled and Johnny Bench unloaded his 14th homer. Jim Brewer then came out of the Dodger bullpen to seal Mueller's first victory.

Joe Torre and Tommie Aaron stroked run-scoring singles in the eighth inning and rookie Ralph Garr capped the Braves' decisive three-run rally by stealing home.

Casper Wins $100,000 Hartford Open

By TOM HARRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Bruce Crampton said last week that it takes four super rounds to win a tournament in pro golf today, and he turned out to be a prophet—for Billy Casper.

Casper, golf's leading money winner in 1968, put together the four super rounds in the $100,000 Greater Hartford Open Tourney which wound up Sunday. Australian Crampton had only three rounds in the super category and wound up in second place.

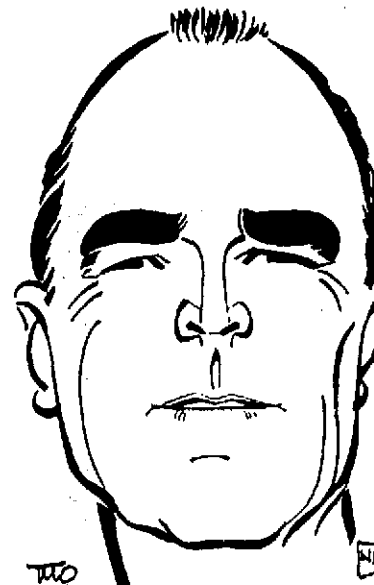

Casper had scores of 68-65-67-66 to claim the $20,000 top prize at Wethersfield Country Club with a 72-hole score of 266, 18-under-par. Crampton had 66-67-70-67 for a 269 finish Sunday and $12,000 in consolation money.

There is no known evidence to show that our flag was down on the battlefields of the Revolution.

NFL WEST: Central Division—Green Bay

Phil Bengtson

PASSING—When it's apple-in-the-throat-time, Bart Starr still rates as the top field general around. His statistics weren't impressive last year—he had a bad elbow. But down the stretch he was superb, and his passing looks just as sharp now. Rating—A.

RECEIVING—Because of the Lombardi-inspired stress on power, this corps has been generally underrated. Carroll Dale, Boyd Dowler don't have blazing Olympic speed, but they'll fool you going deep. And Marv Fleming's starting to show why Packers have stuck with him these years as tight end. For sheer speed, Bob Long is promising asset. Rating—B+.

RUNNING—Nothing to complain about when you have four such talents as Jim Grabowski, Donny Anderson, Elijah Pitts and Travis Williams to alternate. They can all run, catch, block. Grabowski has the quick power, Williams the breakaway speed. Pitts, Donny do it all. Only thing that can mar the depth is injury, which happened a year ago. Rating—A.

LINE—The hawk of age hovers over this department, especially at the tackle posts, where Forrest Gregg, Bob Skoronski combine 21 years of pro pounding. Francis Peay behind them is still a latent talent. Jerry Kramer's no chicken at guard, either. But from there on, youth edges in, with Gale Gillingham potential all-pro at guard and either Ken Bowman or Bob Hyland eager to fill center spot. Rating—B.

DEFENSE—Spectre of age also circles menacingly over Willie Davis at end, Henry Jordan at tackle. Latter has had back luck. They're the super performers who provide most of the pass rush. Bob Kostelnik, Lionel Aldridge are steady supporters. Look for Jim Weatherwax, a big brood of a tackle, to see increasing service this season. Rating—B+.

LINEBACKING—This is really the heart of the Packers' domination of football. None fiercer as a group than Ray Nitschke in middle, Dave Robinson on strong side, Lee Roy Caffey at the right post. Equally adept against pass or run. Tommy Crutcher, the fourth man, was traded away, but Jim Flanagan, a slob, should start coming up. And Fred Carr, the top draftee can play here or at tight end—Rating—B.

SECONDARY—This is the fifth year together for Bob Jeter and Herb Adderley at corners, Willie Wood and Tom Brown at safeties. Though Jeter and Wood are over 30, Adderley just a shade away, there's no sign of decrepitude. Yet Doug Hart, slob John Bowser stand by for emergency. Or to give the older guys a blow. Rating—B+.

KICKING—Don Chandler already is missed. Search for placekicker now turns to Wade Traynham, ex-Albany, or Jerry Kramer who has kicked in past. Donny Anderson, as a punter, boots 'em high, but not always far. Rating—B.

Patriots Win, Jets Down Lions

By MIKE BRYSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

Gino Cappelletti gets his kicks out of kicking, but the Buffalo Bills sure wish he would find another way to amuse himself.

The Bills did a fairly good job of short-circuiting Boston's offense Sunday—except Gino's toe.

The precision kicker connected on three field goals and an extra point to lead the Patriots to a 16-7 victory in the American Football League opener for both teams.

Meanwhile, the AFL was aglow today over a couple of weekend games that didn't mean a thing—except a big dent in the elder National League's reputation.

The New York Jets knocked off the Detroit Lions 9-6 and Miami bumped Atlanta 19-13 in the last of preseason interleague play.

That gave the nine-year-old AFL a 13-10 edge over its 49-year-old rival in face-to-face showdowns this summer—quite a contrast to a year ago when the NFL had a 13-0 budge in interleague play.

AFL warfare picks up momentum tonight when Kansas City, last season's runnerup in the Western Division, and Houston's Eastern Division champions make their debut in the Astrodome.

Both teams take 4-1 preseason records into the nationally televised affair over NBC 9 p.m. (EDT).

Kansas City's big chore will be to stop quarterback Pete Beathard, who hit 60 of 129 passes for 659 yards and 12 touchdowns in the exhibitions.

The Chiefs hope to counteract this threat with the passing of veterans Len Dawson and the running of Mike Garrett, Curtis McClinton and Wendell Hayes.

Cappelletti did all of his work after Buffalo made an impressive start with an all-rookie backfield.

Dan Darragh, elevated to the No. 1 quarterback spot because of Jack Kemp's injury, guided the Bills 77 yards in 13 plays—with end Paul Costa going the last six—to ring up a quick 7-0 lead.

But then Gino went to work. He kicked a 10-yard field goal in the second quarter, picked up

Picks Ashe Because of His Power

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Can a big service overpower speed and finesse in a championship tennis battle?

This was the question that divided the court wizards today as Arthur Ashe, the U.S. Army lieutenant from Highland Falls, N.Y., and Tom Okker, the quick giant-killer from The Netherlands, squared off in the men's singles final of the U.S. Open Tournament.

"I think I would have to pick Ashe because of his powerful service," predicted Pancho Gonzalez, the old pro who gave the fans a show before bowling out to Okker in the quarterfinals.

"Ashe serves as hard as any man in tennis, much harder than I do today. He has too much power for Okker."

Bill Talbert, the former U.S. Davis Cup captain, disagreed. "Okker's all-around strength will beat Arthur," Talbert said. "It's true that Ashe serves harder but Okker is quicker and has more shots."

"I'll go with the big serve and Ashe," said Jack Kramer. "I lose only to the champion

—I have to pick Okker. He's not only fast but he is capable of making some of the most fantastic shots I've ever seen," said the veteran Ken Rosewall.

The third-seeded Rosewall, who became the 13th professional to fall before an amateur racket, was Okker's victim in the dramatic semifinals Sunday, the 24-year-old Dutchman winning 6-6, 6-4, 6-8, 6-1.

Ashe, 24, reigning U.S. amateur champion and the first Negro ever to win the American title, unleashed a 115 miles-per-hour service in blasting aside his Davis cup teammate, Clark Graebner of New York, 4-6, 8-6, 7-5, 6-2.

"Arthur's serve was just too strong," admitted Graebner. Ashe, semifinalist at Wimbledon and bidding to become the No. 1 men's player in the world, will be going for his 26th consecutive singles victory when he goes against Okker at 3 p.m. EDT before a national television audience (CBS).

The service also was the determining factor in the jolting surprise in the women's final which saw Virginia Wade, prettiest 24-year-old British girl with a thunderbolt service and a powerful forehand, dethrone Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., the two-time Wimbledon winner, 6-4, 6-2.

It's been a humiliating week for the pros. Thirteen men pros, including such stars as Rod Laver, Tony Roche and Pancho Gonzalez, lost to amateurs. All four of the lady pros in the tournament, headed by Mrs. King, were sent to the sidelines.

But amateurs, under the new liberal international rules, this time got a little more than silverware and trophies for their performances. Miss Wade collected $6,000 for winning the women's title, Mrs. King, a pro, got $3,000. Okker, who chose to play for prize money, got the $14,000 men's purse and Rosewall the $9,000 second money.

Steers Spill Out Over Road

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Six steers were struck by three motorists on U.S. 169 Sunday after a cattle truck overturned and spilled out 96 steers in the north part of Kansas City.

The motorists were not injured, but four of the six steers hit were killed and the other two were injured.

Police spent the afternoon rounding up the other animals and driving them to a pasture near the accident scene.

The truck driver, Burillon Moffett, 28, of Fort Smith, Ark., suffered minor lacerations.

Fans Show Concern for 'Hecklers'

I attended a high school football game the other evening. It might have been any one of several played on gridiron throughout the country — the after effects were undoubtedly the same.

Oh, it's a thrilling sight to see the teams come on the field, geared to the peak of enthusiasm, perfect specimens of youthful physical development going through their pre-game callistics.

It's great to see the local fans, parents and students "whooping it up" while the band, resplendent in their uniforms, goes through its formations and musical fanfare.

I must admit my enthusiasm was somewhat muted when the colorguard presented Old Glory. True, the teams, perfectly disciplined, bared their heads and stood at attention, but of those hundreds of enthusiastic spectators, only a handful sang out the words of our National Anthem.

At first I thought maybe it was the chilly night air and the dampness that had brought on the hoarseness. But, I soon realized some had not lost their voice at all. In fact they were very willing to shout out above the cheerleaders chant and the student response.

But those spectators were not shouting encouragement to a bunch of boys who had sacrificed many after school coke dates, had trained religiously to achieve physical fitness, had nursed sore muscles and sprains in therapy at the expense of late, cold suppers and still believed the smell of sweaty shirts and mildew was more character building than the essence of cologne and hair spray.

No, they were shouting ridicule and criticism to a coaching staff that had devoted their education and their lifetime to the building of man.

True, many of these coaches, stars in their day, might have gone on to play professionally at high salaries, but they chose instead a comparatively low salary position of teaching and coaching.

Sure these grandstand quarterbacks could think of a better play that should have been called after one failed to give the necessary yardage. They complained because the team didn't pull off the offensive maneuvers they had apparently watched on the pro TV screen.

So, I said to myself, "What did they come to see? What do they hope to accomplish?" They saw dozens of well executed plays, lots of jarring tackles, hard blocking, deceptive running, sharp accurate passing, and as a result, heard the resounding roar of several touchdowns.

But that wasn't enough. No, our grandstand spectators, many who never messed up when they were in school, came to find fault, rather than shout encouragement.

This might have its place in the professional areas where high salaried participants make their living, but not on a high school level where the entire staff is striving to eliminate dropouts, encourage scholastic achievement and combat delinquency with proper discipline and programming.

I wondered how long it would be before the students themselves would decide to carry picket signs declining to attend certain teachers' classes if this public nuisance continues.

I saw the shoulders of some of our athletes sag a little big when they heard a win-thirsty fan deride their coach who they had learned to love and respect.

Maybe that's why only the bravest, most devoted will continue to come out year after year while their longhaired classmates turn to cars and girls or rove in gangs the long night through.

My hat is off to the coach who can continue to put the emphasis on sportsmanship, disire and the building of men rather than the mere won-lost record at the end of the season.

And, I'll be there again to cheer the boys on, because win or lose, it doesn't matter, it's how they played the game.

one test of an expert is his

Jim: "It is also well to re-Oswald: "Today's hand shows some excellent competitive bidding. East and West can make three dia-is just what they bid. North and South can make only eight tricks in spades but it was good tactics for them to bid

Jim: "I really like South's rebid. He only had eight high aces and he decided to show his second five-card suit in hope if his partner might actually take him to game."

Oswald: "The hand is very unusual in that South can't be

Jim: "The defense to beat three spades is for East to take two clubs and one dia-third club. This will establish a trump trick for West and West will also get a heart trick. With hearts as trumps the third club lead won't mat-and West will use up his heart trick if he overruns."

Oswald: "South did make three spades. Trick one produced the jack, queen and king of clubs. At trick two East led his king of diamonds and West played the four spot. East studied that card carefully, looked around for the deuce, couldn't find it, couldn't see why his partner would be hiding it from him, and tried to cash his queen of diamonds. South ruffed, drew trumps and made his con-

THE WELL CHILD

Man Is Helpless Animal at Birth

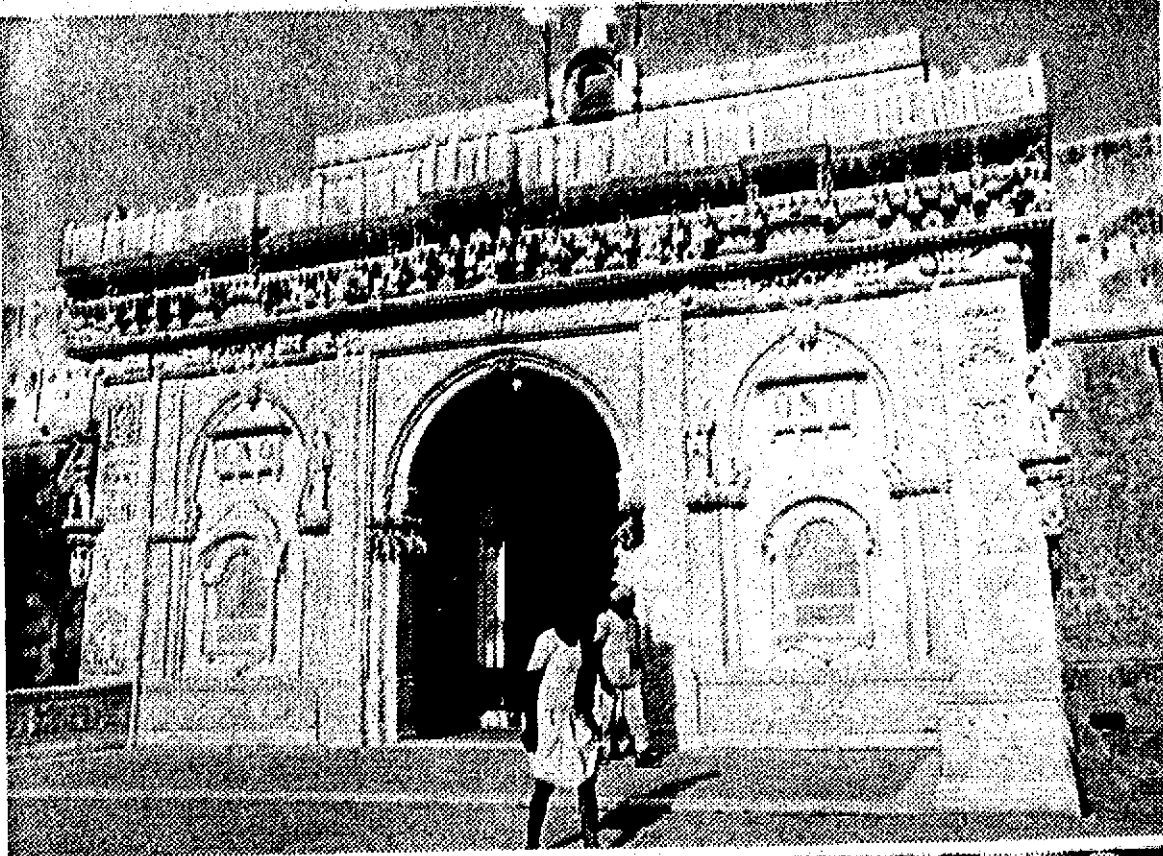

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Although a human baby is born after roughly nine months of gestation he is far behind the newborn colt that can stand and run within a few hours after birth. It is believed that a human baby is born in a relatively undeveloped state because its head is so large in proportion to the rest of the body and the skull must not exceed the size of the bony birth canal. It may be another eight months after birth before the baby can even crawl on his hands and knees.

The fact that the human infant is so helpless makes it necessary for his mother to give him loving care for many months after his birth. This further develops the emotional development of the child and creates a strong bond between the mother and child.

At birth the circumference of the head is as great as that of the chest. Its passage through the birth canal sometimes gives the head a lopsided appearance but this in no way harms the undeveloped brain. Because the bones of the skull have not yet fused they are able to assume their proper shape within a few days after birth, to the great relief of the anxious parents.

Before birth all the air spaces in the lungs are completely collapsed. The infant's first few breaths expand most of these tiny sacs but, con-

$3.5 Billion Spending Cuts Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said today the Johnson administration is "intriguing" in its attempts to meet Congress' edict for a $3.5 billion spending cut.

President Johnson gave Dirksen and Senate Democratic leader of Montana, and others, a preview of the agency-by-agency reductions announced Sunday. They added up to only $3.5 billion, with responsibility for other slashes resting on Congress.

Dirksen said Johnson explained that bumper farm crops around the world will make it impossible to reduce the $700 million allotted to the Commodity Credit Corp. for crop loans.

He said the administration also has found it impossible to reduce a $500 million item for old age assistance.

"They're in trouble on their efforts to cut back," Dirksen told an informal news conference. "We've got a one-billion-bushel corn crop in sight and with the price of corn dropping a lot of it is going to be put under government loan."

He said Budget Director Charles J. Zwick went into detail about the bumper world crops that are likely to cut U.S. exports of farm produce.

Zwick forecast that Congress will cut spending about $3.3 billion before it adjourns.

The reductions made in Capitol Hill and those the administration intends to make total nearly $7 billion because amendments and re-estimates have added $900 million since January to proposals subject to reduction by the cutback law.

Agency heads have been told, Zwick said, that the $3.5-billion reduction will be made by cutting:

— $1 billion from defense expenditures, but without cutting into funds for the Vietnam war.

— $1 billion in loan programs of agencies such as the Small Business Administration, Farm Credit Administration and Export-Import Bank.

— $200 million from the federal-aid highway program, by delaying certain projects.

— $100 million from the space program, but without touching the Apollo man-on-the-moon project.

— $1.2 billion from all other civilian agencies, but with high-priority social programs such as "safe streets," low-income

Americans Gulp Down 21½ Tons of Aspirin Every Single Day

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — "Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Americans now gulp 30 pounds of aspirin every minute around the clock—more than 21½ tons daily—to cure headaches and calm jittery nerves. Is all that worry really worthwhile?

The United States now has more than 100 million telephones, or one for every two persons. This nearly half of all the telephones in the world. What would it sound like if, at a given moment, all the telephones everywhere rang at once?

Speeding costs money as well as increasing the possibility of accidents. Checks show that a car that gets 20 miles a gallon at 40 miles an hour gets only 12 miles a gallon at 80.

Time has outlived the idea that women must choose between matrimony and a career. Some 15 million U.S. married women now hold jobs outside the home.

Looking for an interesting new hobby? Why not take up dendrochronology, the science of dating past events by the growth rings of dead and living trees? The idea of using trees as calendars of history goes back to Leonardo da Vinci, the Italian universal genius of the 15th and 16th centuries.

Czechs Agree to Let Soviet Troops Stay in Country Indefinitely

By PETER REHAK
Associated Press Writer

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's embattled Communist leaders have agreed to the stationing of Soviet-bloc troops indefinitely along their country's border with West Germany, reliable informants say.

These border forces are not among those the Soviet Union has promised to withdraw from occupied Czechoslovakia when the situation "normalizes," the sources said.

Neither Prague nor Moscow has announced the agreement, but sources said it was one of seven concessions in the Moscow accord signed by Czechoslovak and Soviet leaders Aug. 28, a week after the Soviet invasion.

Vasily Kuznetsov, a Soviet first deputy foreign minister, is in Prague, reportedly to secure more speedy compliance with the secret agreements, Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, said Sunday.

Czechoslovakia was "taking the first steps toward normalization," but that its leaders still had failed to strike a decisive blow to "hostile forces" in the country.

The stationing of Soviet-bloc troops along the Czechoslovak-West Germany border had been one of the major sore points between Moscow and Prague during the tense months preceding the invasion. Czechoslovakia insisted it could take care of its borders with West Germany without Warsaw Pact help.

Informants said the Czechoslovak leaders also promised they would:

— Change Czechoslovakia's political development to conform with the conservative Soviet brand of communism.

— Remove from office Interior Minister Josef Pavel, Deputy Premier Otá Šik and Foreign Minister Jiri Hajek. Pavel has been replaced and Šik has resigned.

— Revive censorship to prevent the news media from criticizing the Warsaw Pact countries that participated in the invasion—the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, East Germany, Poland and Hungary.

— Repudiate the 14th congress of the Czechoslovak Communist party, held secretly while party leader Alexander Dubcek was a prisoner in Moscow. It purged the party presidium of conservative, orthodox Communists, but this has been partly nullified by election of a new presidium.

— Withdraw Hajek's formal request for debate on the Czechoslovak crisis by the U.N. Security Council.

ity Council. Hajek, just before he left New York after the Moscow agreement, asked the council to do nothing more.

— Take no reprisal against Czechoslovak citizens who collaborated with the invading armies.

The Russians agreed, in turn, to take their security police with them when the occupation forces leave and dropped a demand that Czechoslovak leaders declare that a "counterrevolution" existed in their country, the informants said.

The strike was called over the refusal of a local governing board in Brooklyn's Ocean Hill-Brownsville district to take back 10 teachers "fired" by the local board but ordered reinstated after hearings before an examiner.

The source said "all the difficulties" were ironed out after a five-hour meeting of board and union officials. He said the settlement included agreement on the Ocean Hill-Brownsville issue.

Schools were ordered open today by the Board of Education but the picture during the early morning was one of chaos and confusion.

Most of the city's 1.1-million students did not know whether to go to school or not. Some schools were open and picketed. Others were locked up and students milled around the playgrounds.

Agreement in Strike of Teachers

NEW YORK (AP) — A key figure in the crisis that halted the operation of many city schools said this morning an agreement had been reached to end the teacher strike.

A reliable source said the agreement reached by the Board of Education and the United Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, would guarantee teachers' rights under the board's new decentralization plan.

The strike was called over the refusal of a local governing board in Brooklyn's Ocean Hill-Brownsville district to take back 10 teachers "fired" by the local board but ordered reinstated after hearings before an examiner.

Star's Photos of Missouri's Lake Taneycomo

Great cliffs and rocky headlands jut out over Lake Taneycomo at Branson, Mo., one of the oldest man-made reservoirs in America. It was formed in 1913 by the Empire District Electric Company's construction of the Ozark Beach dam across White River, a 16,000 KW installation which was the first hydro-power plant in Missouri. The Star's editor and L.

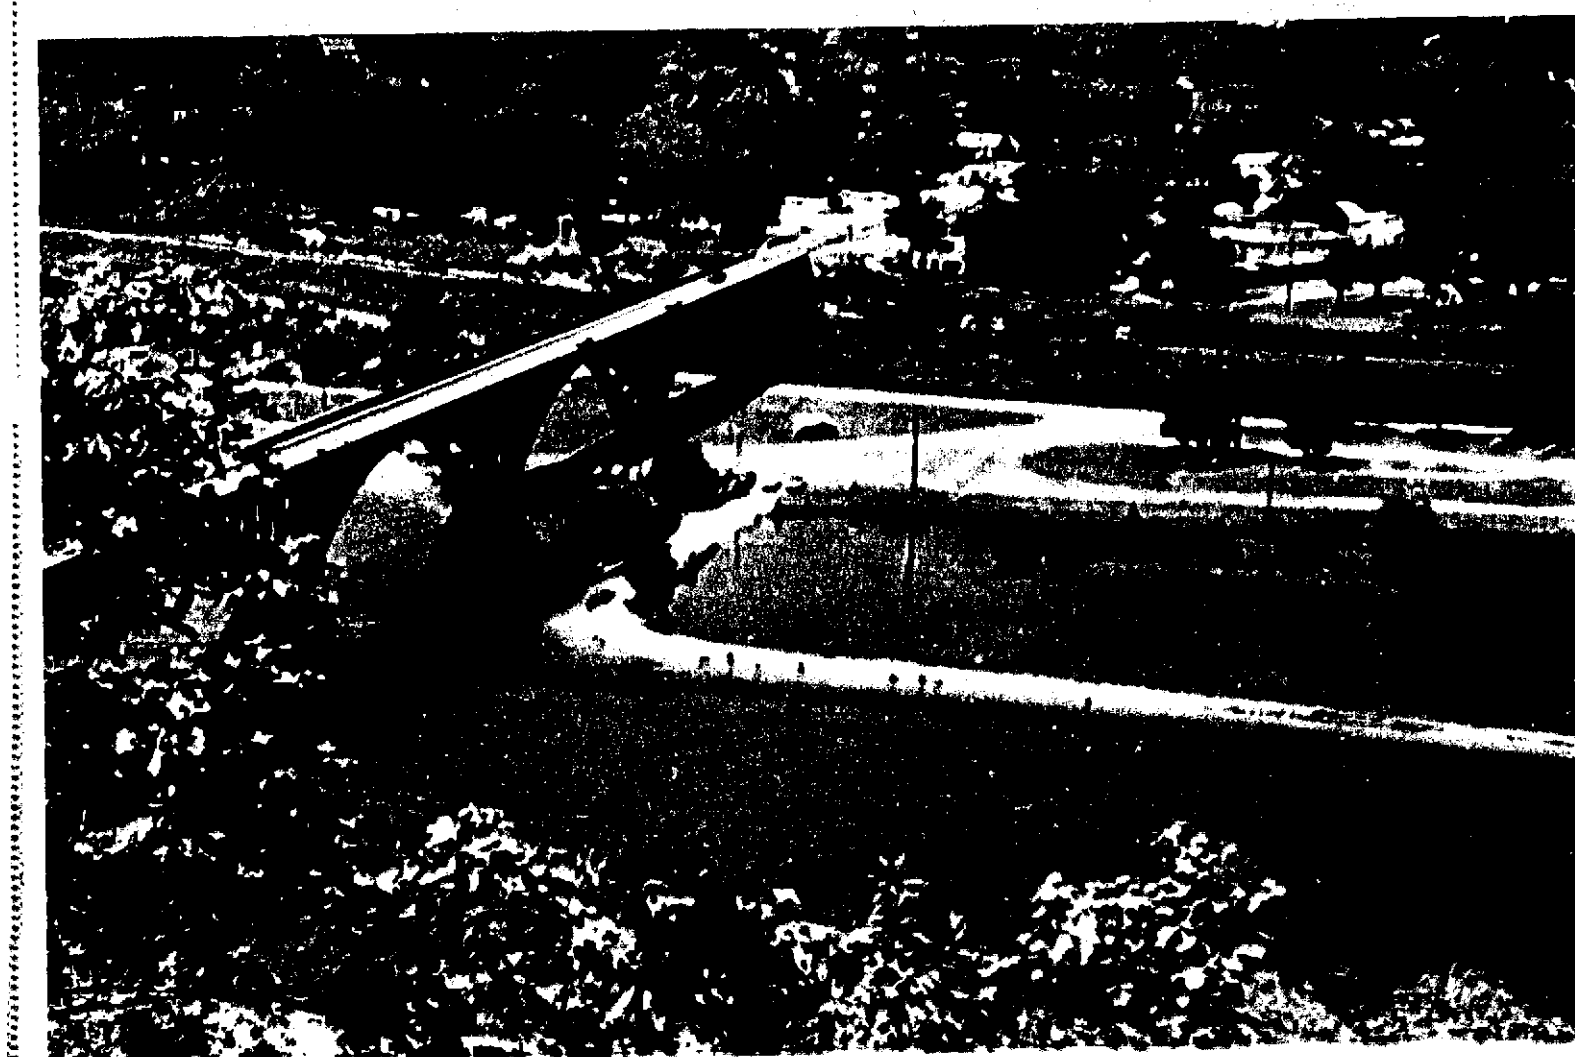

Carter Johnson, Hope freight rate consultant, spent Aug. 27-Sept. 1 at Branson, the pictures being made Aug. 31, their only fair day in a week of bad weather. Duplicate pictures were made in Kodachrome, which turned out OK — so this layout may be duplicated in color, if and when the editor gets around to it.

—Contax wide-angle photos, Alex. H. Washburn

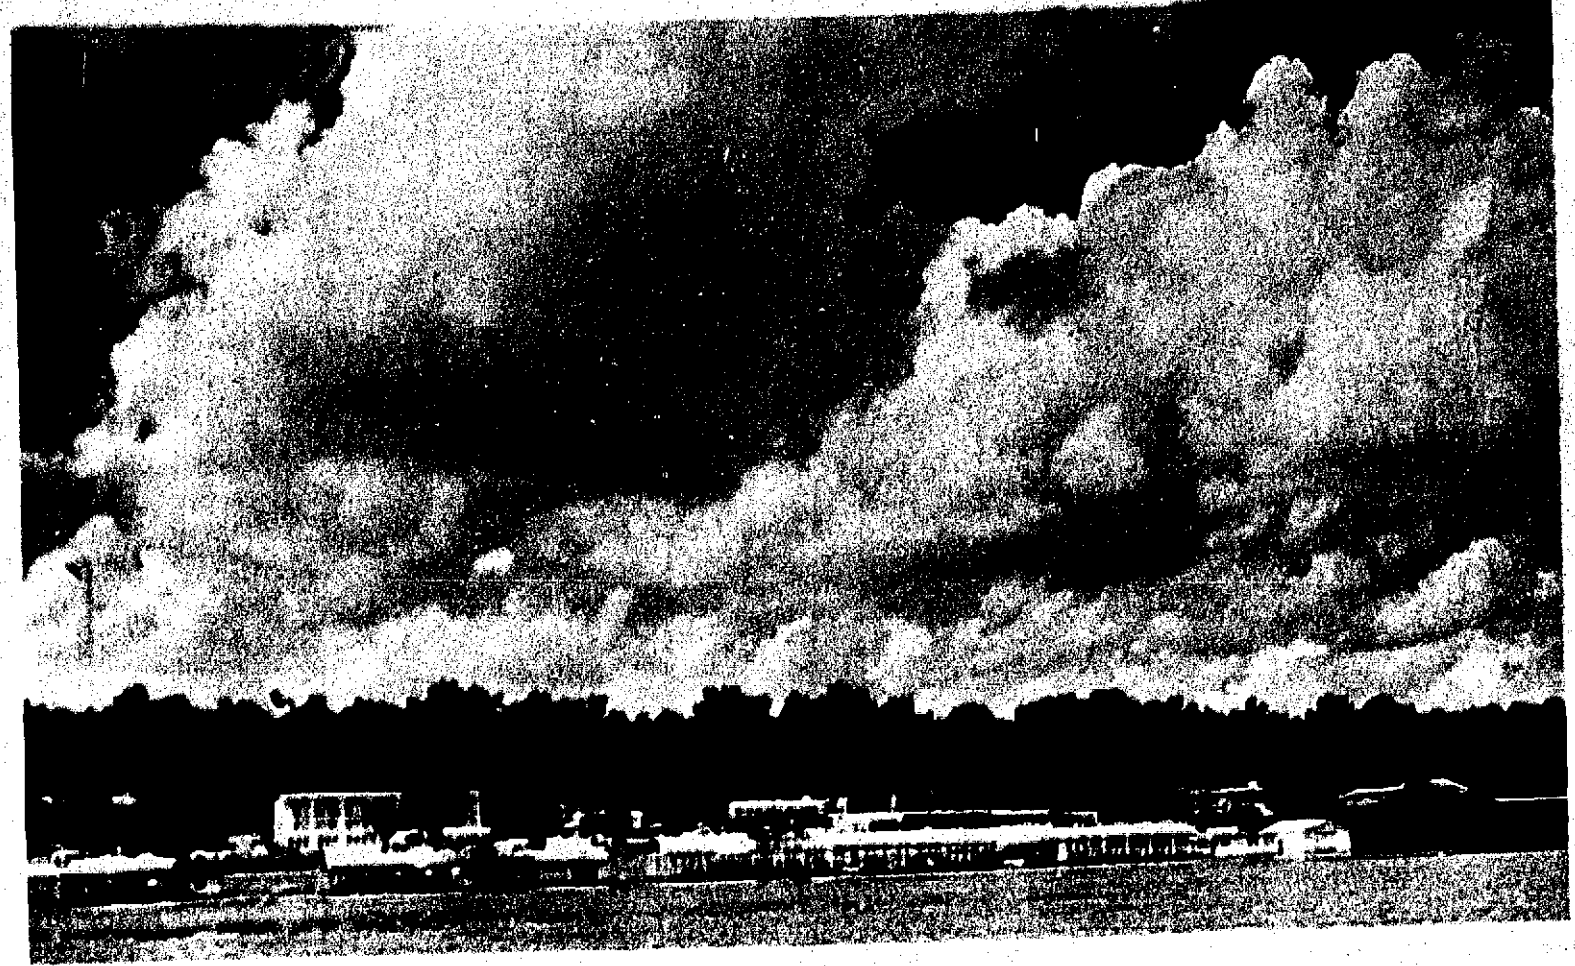

We leave our own mark on Lake Taneycomo — a broad wake curving around the twists and turns of Taneycomo's 36-mile course in the Shepherd of the Hills country. Johnson ran the boat while the editor photographed this one.

At the east end of the bridge which carries U.S. 65 over Lake Taneycomo into Branson there is a big hill topped by a burned-out hotel, from which you get this view looking westward at Taneycomo and Branson. The earthwork lagoon near the bridge is, as you might have guessed, a swimming hole constructed in Taneycomo to protect bathers from the 40-to-45 degree water that comes down the canyon when the Corps of Engineers lets go at Table Rock Dam, a couple of miles to the left out of the picture.

Rockaway Beach, famous Taneycomo playground, six miles down the lake from Branson. Rockaway has been a fun spot for folks from St. Louis and Kansas City, from Missouri and Arkansas, for two generations. Sharp pictures were hard to come by on the first fair day in a week, the boat being kept bobbing by countless runabouts and skiers.

Restoration of an English village street may be seen on this block of Hollister, Mo., just two miles from Branson on U.S. 65. It's the first thing you see on entering the southwestern Missouri lake country.

Nation Asked to Reject the 'Old Era'

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —

Hubert H. Humphrey launched his first coast-to-coast barnstorming tour today by calling on the nation to reject what he termed the "Old Era" of conflict and hatred for a "New Day" of hope, equality and unity.

"I appeal not to your fears,

but to your reason," Humphrey said. "I ask you to vote your hopes, not your hates."

His speech, prepared for a midday Philadelphia rally, reiterated the themes he introduced in his formal presidential campaign opener in Washington

Sunday.

The vice president charged that his Republican opponent,

Richard M. Nixon—who was not mentioned by name in the text —"is openly competing for the same votes as George Wallace —for the votes of people who want at best to slow things down when it comes to programs that offer the way out of tension and trouble in America."

Humphrey termed the 1968

election "a national referendum

—nothing less—on human rights and human opportunity," saying that the choice this year is:

"Are we going to accept as inevitable the conflict and hatred which are becoming a part of our everyday life?"

"The choice, he went on, is "between one America and an America of apartheid . . . between the America of the Old

Era and the America of the New Day."

"Turn away from the Old Era

when an American boy who fought in an integrated bunker at Khe Sanh could come home to a segregated slum in America," Humphrey said. "Choose the

New Day when that boy can come home to a job, to training, to equality before the law and in his neighborhood."

"Turn away from the Old Era

where 'separate and equal' really meant 'separate but unequal' and where generation after generation in the same family all — "What happened? I don't know."

ended up in poverty and welfare," he went on, adding:

"Choose the New Day where every American child—regardless of his color or his last name or his religion—can receive the best education in the world, where all of us stand together and equal—and proud of it."

"When people have hope,"

Humphrey said, "they will not accept what is wrong. They want something better. They want it now. And they are right.

"I say this nation is willing to pay the price—in dollars, in personal sacrifice and in moral commitment to make this one

America, and to do it peace-fully," he said.

After a tickertape parade and speech here, plus two television tapings, Humphrey planned to head westward for Denver—and two more appearances—before flying on to Los Angeles tonight.

On Tuesday, he campaigns in Los Angeles and Houston. A revised schedule for Wednesday adds a stop in New Orleans, for a speech to the 50th annual convention of the American Legion, before moving on to a rally in Flint, Mich., and a county fair in Saginaw, Mich., that night.

Humphrey fired a double-barreled domestic and foreign attack at Nixon Sunday, accusing the GOP nominee of trying to exploit the fears and tensions of many Americans while picturing himself as a "peace man" and Nixon as a hawk.

Speaking to a B'nai B'rith convention, he charged that

Nixon and the Republicans

"have chosen this year to join forces with the most reactionary elements in American society" but expressed confidence that the nation's "great moderate majority" would reject such an effort.

Earlier, in an hour-long television interview, he said, "My general attitude about our foreign policy and national security is a little less hard-line than

Mr. Nixon's," adding that "I believe that Mr. Nixon has a tendency to take a much more military stance than I do."

If elected president, Humphrey said "I will take new initiatives . . . I believe that I am a peace man."

Yearling in Biggest Upset of the Year

Strong Strong, purchased for $16,000 as a yearling, pulled one of the biggest upsets of the thoroughbred racing season Saturday and won $212,850, surviving a foul claim in the process.

The 2-year-old colt outgalled 17 other starters and won the Arlington-Washington Futurity at Arlington Park, the world's richest thoroughbred event, by a nose over King Emperor, the 1-5 favorite.

"We certainly didn't have any idea that we would win and we were just in there shooting for a chance at fourth-place money ($25,000)," said W.J. Ressegue Jr., of New Orleans, co-owner of Strong Strong along with S.G. Steiner III, a Houston fabric manufacturer.

An angry Braulio Baeza, King Emperor's rider, refused to answer questions after the stewards disallowed his bumping foul claim.

Poll Favors Republicans

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Americans feel the Republican party can deal with the nation's vital problems more effectively than the Democrats, according to the Gallup Poll.

similar poll gave the Democrats a 62-38 margin and they went on to win the election with 61 per cent of the vote to 39 per cent for the Republicans.

Final Game Could Decide Championship

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — After you eat your turkey dinner Thanksgiving Day, turn on the television to the Texas-Texas A&M game—it could decide not only the Southwest Conference title but the national championship.

Both the defending champion Aggies and the talent-loaded Longhorns have the high-powered offense and the gritty defense to take them through a peril-filled schedule.

Besides the normal SWC menu the Aggies tackle Louisiana State, Tulane and Florida State. The Longhorns open with powerful independent Houston, and play Oklahoma State and Oklahoma outside the SWC.

The Aggies, who have the longest major college winning streak at seven games, carry the momentum of a stunning 20-16 Cotton Bowl upset over Alabama into the campaign.

But SWC writers decided in a poll that Texas with an infusion of excellent talent off the freshman team would catch and pass the Aggies.

Texas Christian, Arkansas, Texas Tech and Rice will field strong teams. Southern Methodist and Baylor are the weaker teams in the league this season.

Chris Gilbert, a solid All-American candidate, heads the Texas ground corps. Quarterback Bill Bradley, Ted Koy, sophomore Steve Worster, and Pat Sheehan bolster Gilbert's all-the-way threat.

"I don't think we have a glaring weakness," says Texas Coach Darrell Royal, who usually means about his chances.

"When I think of all that potential, I get enthused. We could get hot and win it all."

The Aggies return a veteran team headed by one of the best quarterbacks in the land—Edd Hargett.

While Hargett makes the big play on offense, All-American Billy Hobbs can be counted upon to make the breaks from his linebacking slot.

Coach Gene Stallings says "We should be a lot stronger. But we will have to play better. It's just human nature that everybody will be after us."

TCU, if it can find a quarterback, could be tough with its ground-pounding duo of Ross Montgomery and Norman Bullock.

Arkansas is a definite dark horse. Bill Montgomery could provide the quarterback help the Razorbacks sorely needed last year.

Texas Tech has an all-around balance that could make it a winner in the long haul. Rice has tough and foxy quarterback Robby Shelton, who could propel the Owls to the throne if he stays healthy.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Republican State Convention Saturday adopted a platform that included an appeal for a comprehensive review of the state's tax structure and revenue laws.

The platform also makes a passing defense of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's absences from the governor's office, a frequent subject of Democratic criticism.

The platform commends Rockefeller for his personal role in attracting industry to the state and adds that the party is proud that the governor's office had ceased "to be just a room in the Capitol."

In an apparent reference to what Republicans called evasiveness by Rockefeller's Democratic opponent, Marion Crank, on whether the state needs new taxes, the platform said all candidates must frankly state their positions and recommendations on the sources of revenue to meet the state's requirements.

"It is the responsibility of both parties and their candidates to tell the story as it is without demagoguery or misrepresentation," the platform said.

The platform also said the party recognizes that "respect for law and order flows naturally from a just society."

"Therefore, while demanding protection of the public peace and safety, we pledge a relentless attack on economic and social injustice in every form," it said.

The platform endorsed a four-year term for governor and Lieutenant governor with a two-term limitation; home rule for cities to levy additional taxes and develop new revenue sources; the right to work law; lowering the voting age from 21 to 18; a proposed constitutional amendment to permit free public kindergartens, and the involvement of persons of all ethnic groups in government.

The convention adopted a resolution urging Arkansians to vote in the general election to call a constitutional convention in 1969.

Other resolutions adopted pledged the state party's support to the Nixon-Agnew ticket, urged voters to reject a party affiliation initiated act and called for management adults of the state Game and Fish Commission, the state Department of Aeronautics and the Highway Department.

The Republican delegates, told repeatedly that this is the year for the GOP, completed the seven-hour convention in a harmonious mood. The only note of disharmony was a contest of the seating of delegations from Marion and Conway counties, but the convention voted to accept the Credentials Committee's decision.

The convention delegates formally nominated Rockefeller and other Republican candidates for office and named Haskell Jones of Hope as permanent chairman of the convention.

Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon sent a telegram to the convention commending it for its work and saying the GOP faced the prospect of overwhelming victory in the Nov. 5 general election.

Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania spoke briefly to the delegates and, in referring to a slogan over pictures of the GOP candidates, "Arkansas' Answer to Machine Politics," said, "You do have the answer to machine politics by electing these candidates," Shafer said.

The Democratic party had failed with "too many tired ideas, bankrupt programs and quarrelsome officials."

Rockefeller was the last speaker at the convention. He told the delegates that he seeks re-election to keep the state moving forward and that the Republicans had the tools to do the job.

His wife is the former Brenda L. Black.

to expand its Middle East influence. "Some may call this a hard line," he said, but he said such talk is needed to convince potential aggressors not to make a miscalculation.

Nixon said earlier in the day the entire U.S.-Soviet bridge-building effort should be re-evaluated and said he is concerned about some provisions of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty before the Senate.

The effort to increase U.S.-Soviet cooperation in some fields should not be scrapped, he said in Pittsburgh, but no action should be taken that could be interpreted as condoning the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Nixon said he favors the principle of a treaty against spread of nuclear weapons but said the treaty should be negotiated.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, launching his Democratic vice presidential campaign, called in San Antonio for Americans to "get our emotions under control and start using our heads."

"This is no time to make votes," Muskie said, "simply by playing upon the discontent and the uneasiness of the voters."

housing and manpower training protected from cuts.

While the $989 million in cuts required of the Defense Department is the greatest for a single department, other agencies will be hit harder considering the size of their operations.

The $467 million reduction targeted for the Department of Agriculture and $380 million that will be cut at Health, Education and Welfare are "indeed big burdens," Zwick said.

The director emphasized that budgets of many departments and agencies will be trimmed both by Congress and the administration. The reduction of the administration plans at the Agriculture Department, for instance, is in addition to $243 million in cuts by Congress.

The targets for the various departments, he said, may have to be revised further because of uncertainty about what Congress may do between now and adjournment.

"The longer they're here," he said, referring to Congress, "the harder our problems."

In his discussion of the budget in general, Zwick said the administration now estimates that the deficit when the year ends next June 30 will be $51 billion. The deficit for the fiscal year that closed June 30 was $25.4 billion.

The $5 billion estimate for fiscal year 1969, widely used by administration spokesmen in recent months, is $3 billion less than they estimated in January. Since then, estimates of expenditures have fallen $1.7 billion to $184.4 billion and estimates of receipts have gone up $1.3 billion to $179.4 billion.

Other Republican candidates for office accepted the convention's nomination. They are Charles Bernard of Earle, who is opposing Sen. J. W. Fulbright; Lynn Davis, who is opposing Secretary of State Kelly Bryant; Jerry Thomasson, who is opposing Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell; G. W. Tyler, who is opposing state Auditor Jimmie Jones; Mrs. Leona Troxell, who is opposing state Treasurer Mrs. Nancy Hall; and Ed Allison, who is opposing land Commissioner Sam Jones.

Other speakers included Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., and Guy Newcomb of Osceola, a Republican candidate for Congress from the 1st District.

Player Picks Up Check for $50,000

By HAL PARIS

Associated Press Sports Writer AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Little Gary Player, who has amassed more than a half million dollars in an illustrious 15-year career as a golf professional, picked up his check for $50,000 and headed for home.

"I'm anxious to get home. I miss my family," the 5-foot-7 South African said after he added the prestige-packed World Series of Golf title to his British Open Championship.

The 32-year-old Johannesburg star calmly rolled in an eight-foot birdie putt on the fourth extra hole of a sudden death playoff Sunday to wrest the big prize from Bob Goalby.

Only a month ago on this same tough par 70, 7,180-yard Firestone Country Club layout, Jack Nicklaus edged Lee Elder on the fifth hole of a playoff in the drama-filled American Golf Classic.

Player, who won this event in 1965, and Masters champ Goalby had deadlocked at 143, three over-par, for the regulation 36-holes before the South African won it all with his only birdie of the day.

Veteran Julius Boros, the PGA king, had a chance to forge a three-way tie but blew it when he missed a four-foot putt on the final hole.

"It's my own fault. I never gave it a chance," the 48-year-old popular pro said after he finished with his second straight 72 for a 144 total.

Goalby carried a one-stroke edge over Player and a two-stroke bulge over Boros to the 16th hole Sunday but put his second shot in the pond that fronts the green for a bogey.

Boros curled in a six-footer for a birdie that created a three-way deadlock but stumbled with his bogey on No. 18 to fall out of the chase. He took $7,500 for third place.

U. S. Open winner Lee Trevino, who dropped out of contention Saturday with a 79, added a 74 for a 153 score, 13 over par. He won $5,000. Player had rounds of 71-72 and Goalby 72-71.

Goalby, who earned $15,000 for his runner-up finish, said, "I had my chances but couldn't take advantage of them. I guess I was choking a bit."

The 37-year-old Belleville, Ill., pro missed a golden opportunity to end it all on the first extra hole, the par 3, 230-yard No. 15, when he misread the green and three-putted from 35 feet.

Years marking the close of centuries are not leap years unless divisible by 400.

Thinks Israel Should Be Superior

By BILL BOYARSKY
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon says the United States must take a careful look at peacemaking moves with the Soviet Union. And, he wants America to assure technological military superiority for Israel to offset the Russian buildup of Arab nations.
In the final day Sunday of a campaign trip that stretched from San Francisco to New York, the Republican presidential candidate called for a stronger stand against the Soviets on three fronts.
Nixon is resting today in his New York apartment.
In Washington, he told the triennial convention of B'nai B'rith, an international Jewish organization, that he supports a policy that would give Israel a technological military margin that would more than offset her hostile neighbors numerical superiority.
Nixon, accusing the Soviet Union of giving arms to the Arabs to promote its own interest in the Middle East, conceded "some may call this a hard line." But he said such talk was needed to convince potential aggressors not to make "a miscalculation."
Nixon's speech was interrupted by applause 10 times.
At a news conference in Pittsburgh earlier in the day, Nixon spelled out two areas where he indicated a tougher U.S. policy might be needed.
He said, "I am concerned about some of the provisions" of the treaty against the spread of nuclear weapons—signed by the United States and Soviet Union and now awaiting Senate ratification by the Senate.
"I favor the principle of non-proliferation," Nixon said. "I believe we should negotiate a nonproliferation treaty." But he said he was going to discuss the matter this week with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, whom he described as having "some rather strong reservations about the advisability of going forward with the treaty at this time because of developments in Czechoslovakia as well as because he is concerned about certain provisions of the treaty."
Nixon also cited the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia as a reason for taking a look at another area—President Johnson's plan for "building bridges" to the Soviet Union by closer cooperation in some fields.
"I think there has to be a re-evaluation of the entire bridge building program," said Nixon.
He said he wasn't in favor of scrapping it, but he suggested "we re-evaluate those negotiations in the light of what happened in Czechoslovakia because if after what the Soviet Union and its Eastern European associates did in Czechoslovakia, the United States immediately went forward with an act that would be interpreted as being completely blind to that, and in fact condoning it, that would have a tremendously bad moral effect."
Rockefeller said in a statement Saturday that approval of the treaty now "might be construed as condoning" the invasion of Czechoslovakia. He said the occupation violated the spirit of the treaty even before its ratification.

Newsman Say U.S. Blocking Peace Talks

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two American newsmen said today U.S. negotiators have blocked progress at the Paris peace talks by "dangerous and possibly fatal trimming" of the understanding by which the conference was arranged.
Contending they paved the way for the Paris talks during a visit to Hanoi last March, William C. Baggs, editor of the Miami News, and Harry S. Ashmore, former executive editor of the Arkansas Gazette, said in

Upsurge of Transplants Predicted

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — With the number of heart transplant operations throughout the world edging near 50, a scientist predicts an even greater upsurge in the number of operations over the coming months.
Dr. F. C. Spencer of the New York University Medical Center also said that despite the obvious success of the heart transplants so far, a great number of questions remain.
One problem that needs exploring, Spencer said, is why many recipients seem to respond either "extremely badly or extremely well."

He told the second International Congress of the Transplantation Society Sunday that the next year will provide major and needed information about long-term survival of recipients, adding, "I predict a great increase in frequency in the next several months."
The society held its first meeting last year in Paris.
Dr. Theodore Cooper, director of the U.S. National Institutes of Health, told the hundreds of researchers Sunday that the United States is setting up a cardiac transplantation registry to record treatment and results on all heart transplants for the use of the world's scientists.
Cooper also cited the problem of supply and demand in heart transplants. Government statistics show that there are 200,000 deaths each year in the United States from acquired heart disease, he said.

"For the 80,000 or so of these which occur before the patient can reach the hospital," he said, "only prevention will provide a cure."
Of the 120,000 who get to a hospital, about 40,000 might be returned to the community without surgery. That leaves 80,000 persons each year who "clearly require new forms of surgery," Cooper said.
There are about 8,000 deaths each year from congenital heart disease occurring before the age of 1 year, but these are largely due to lesions that could be handled with other surgery. Various other cases would amount to about 1,000 additional persons a year to be added to the 80,000 transplant candidates.
Looking at a potential supply of donors, Cooper said there are 260,000 deaths of men and women between the ages of 15 and 64 each year from causes other than cancer or heart disease.
Assuming that all would be suitable donors, he added, that means that one out of three would have to be willing and available as a donor to supply the 81,000 candidates.
"Assuming the willingness," Cooper continued, "the availability does raise some impressive problems in logistics and preservation."

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset

a book released today that North Vietnam stated before the sessions convened that meaningful negotiations could not begin until allied bombing of North Vietnam stopped.
The book, "Mission to Hanoi — a Chronicle of Double-Dealing in High Places," was based on two trips to Hanoi and conferences with U.S. State Department officials in Washington.
Baggs and Ashmore were in Hanoi, engaged in private discussions with a spokesman for President Ho Chi Minh on March 31 when President Johnson announced his decisions to curtail the bombing of North Vietnam and to withdraw from the presidential race.
The two newsmen said they met repeatedly with Ho's representative during the critical period when the Hanoi regime was trying to decide if it would accept the partial bombing halt as a strong enough indication of good faith to warrant a formal meeting with U.S. representatives.
Baggs and Ashmore gave this account of their reaction to the Johnson pronouncement as they expressed it to the North Vietnamese: "Mr. Johnson had surprised us as much as he had anyone else in Hanoi, we said, but in our view the importance of the announcement could not be overestimated."
"We took it to be Lyndon Johnson's way of certifying the sincerity of this new move toward peace—perhaps the only method left to him to do so in view on the steady erosion of confidence in his pronouncements at home and abroad."
"For a man of the President's temperament and ambition, the decision not to run again had to be taken as an act of political self-immolation. We thought it urgently important that the North Vietnamese take the new offer to negotiate and respond in kind."

The authors said their view of the president's announcement finally prevailed in the inner circles at Hanoi. After it was official that the North Vietnamese were willing to meet with U.S. representatives, Ashmore and Baggs said they entered into detailed discussions with Ho's spokesman on the procedural points of such a conference.

They left Hanoi with an "aide memoire" which they said spelled out the official North Vietnamese response to Johnson's actions.
Baggs and Ashmore said they delivered the document to the U.S. Embassy in Vientiane, Laos, and were asked to return directly to Washington where they met with Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach, and Asst. Secretary of State William P. Bundy.
